Dear Teams, Drivers and Fans of the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup,

This year will undoubtedly go down in Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup's history books even before the season begins. But the good news is, the races start now. All eight of them.

Granted, the 2020 calendar is extremely tight and packed with special challenges for all of the participating teams and drivers. Nevertheless it is the commitment, eagerness and cooperation from everyone involved to get the "tarmac under the slicks again," that makes me particularly proud and happy. So, let's get ready for exciting races with thrilling showdowns on Europe's most beautiful circuits as part of the FIA Formula 1 World Championship.

Exclusivity, internationality and high-quality sporting action are what make the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup. And not for nothing, it is the pinnacle of Porsche one-make series worldwide, having been featured on the Formula 1 programme since 1993. We are proud to continue this long-standing relationship this season despite the unique surrounding conditions.

Many of the faces you'll see on the grid this year are successful Porsche one-make cup drivers at the highest international level. There, they will be joined by a diverse mix of both experienced drivers and newcomers all looking to showcase their abilities on the big Formula 1 stage. We're expecting an intense battle for the championship.

Whoever makes it to the top is definitely fueled by that special motorsport passion that drives us all. And I am very pleased to be sharing this passion again with you.

Yours sincerely,
Oliver Schwab, Project Manager Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup

SERIES FACTS

RACES

The 2020 Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup calendar consists of 8 races. Each race will run over a distance of approximately 70 km. If the planned distance for the race has not been completed by the leading driver after 30 minutes, the leading driver will receive the chequered flag the next time he passes the control (timing) line.

FREE PRACTICE

One Practice Session of up to 45 minutes will be scheduled for each competition. For the first pre-start of the season, the order of the cars will be determined by a draw. For competitions thereafter, the order of the cars in the pre-start is determined by the classification of the preceding race.

QUALIFYING

One Qualifying Session will be held at each competition, normally of 30 minutes duration (the precise duration will be announced within the timetable of the respective event). All participants must qualify for the respective race. Admission to the starting grid and the races is dependent on the result of the Qualifying Session.

STARTING GRID

The starting grid for the race will be determined by the fastest times achieved in qualifying. Should any grid place penalties be applicable, these will be applied in the order in which the relevant offences occurred.

OVERALL CLASSIFICATION

The Overall Classification is the official driver championship classification of the series.

PROAM CLASSIFICATION

The ProAm Classification is a separate classification for drivers without a professional motor racing background. The minimum age to enter the ProAm Classification is 35 years. The points are allocated according to the points system of the Overall Classification.

ROOKIE CLASSIFICATION

A Rookie is a driver participating in his first season in the series who has participated in no more than 5 races of the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup in previous years. The maximum age for participation in the Rookie Classification is 25 years (the driver must be no more than 25 at the final date of entry).

TEAM CLASSIFICATION

The Team Classification is independent of the Driver Classification. The points of two cars entered under the same competitor licence are added for the team ranking. Points for the Team Classification are awarded according to the official overall race result, irrespective of classification.

GUEST DRIVERS

The series Organiser may permit Guest Drivers to participate in individual competitions. Guest Drivers participate with a car that is entered for only one competition and without a previously existing competition number for the entire series. Guest Drivers may participate in a car that has been used by a previous Guest Driver with the same or different competition number.

PORSCHE JUNIORS

A Porsche Junior is a driver officially nominated and supported by Porsche AG and who has successfully completed the Porsche AG selection process. The Porsche Juniors for the 2020 season of the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup are Jaxon Evans and Ayhancan Güven. Only Porsche Juniors are permitted to use the Porsche Junior branding and labels.

EQUALITY OF POINTS

If an equal number of points is achieved by more than one driver, the positions in the final classification are based on the highest number of first place results, then second place results and possibly all further results achieved in the 2020 series. If, after application of this rule, the number of points is still equal, the decision is made based on the better results of the final race.

TABLE OF POINTS

|------------------------------|-----------|------------------------------|-----------|-------------------------------|----------|--|----------|
| 1st place: | 25 points | 5th place: | 12 points | 9th place: | 7 points | 13th place: | 3 points |
| 2nd place: | 20 points | 6th place: | 10 points | 10th place: | 6 points | 14th place: | 2 points |
| 3rd place: | 17 points | 7th place: | 9 points | 11th place: | 5 points | 15th place: | 1 point |
| 4th place: | 14 points | 8th place: | 8 points | 12th place: | 4 points | 16th place or below: | 0 points |

TITLE, PRIZE MONEY AND TROPHIES

In 2020, Porsche AG is allocating over EUR 630,000.00 in prize money for the Driver and Team Classifications. Please see regulations for the applicable conditions. The highlight of the championship is that the Overall Winner will be awarded the title Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup Champion 2020 and will be provided with a new car. The driver with the highest number of pole positions from all races will receive a watch. If two drivers achieve the same number of pole positions, the prize will be awarded to the driver who achieved that number first.

RACE CAR

THE PORSCHE 911 GT3 CUP IS THE RACING VERSION OF THE 911 GT3

All competitors will drive the latest version of the Porsche 911 GT3 Cup. The four-litre flat six engine develops a peak performance of 357 kW (485 hp), making it the most powerful race car in the history of the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY GIVEN TOP PRIORITY

All cars must comply with the conditions in the technical regulations. The technical scrutineers perform the technical inspections on the cars. All vehicles are technically identical, as are the tyres from Michelin and the fuel – guaranteeing equal chances for all drivers.

PARTNER

Michelin

Porsche and Michelin share a close and successful partnership that goes back to 2002 – a cooperation that encompasses tyres for production models through to all motorsport activities. Both in the Porsche works programmes as well as in most of Porsche's worldwide one-make cup series, drivers, teams and organisers rely on the high performance tyres from France. Michelin is a company with tradition and motor racing experience. The first race victory with Michelin tyres was achieved in 1891 – back then on a road bicycle in the 1,200-kilometre nonstop Paris-Brest-Paris race.

Mobil 1

ExxonMobil and Porsche have worked together since 1996 to research new lubricants that make a difference not only on the racetrack but also in production cars. Right from the start, experts in the field of lubricants were involved in the development of the Porsche 919 Hybrid. The many successes in the FIA World Endurance Championship WEC can be attributed to Mobil 1. The Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup carries the name as title sponsor, with all Porsche vehicles filled with Mobil oil ex-works.

Hugo Boss

In 2019, Porsche and HUGO BOSS entered into a multi-year cooperation agreement. As the official clothing partner, HUGO BOSS equips the entire Porsche Motorsport team – worldwide, both on the race tracks and in the workshops. The brand partnership of the two companies also covers other areas away from motor sports: for example the "Porsche x BOSS" capsule collection, which is launched twice per year and sold in the BOSS stores as well as in the online shops.

Agility Management AG

Agility, one of the world's top freight forwarders and providers of contract logistics, became the Official Logistics Partner of the Porsche Carrera Cup Asia racing series in 2016. Agility handles the movement of all cars for the series, organizing shipping, transport and handling of the racecars across the continent, as well as spare parts support from Porsche Germany to race sites in Asia-Pacific. After a successful partnership in the Porsche Carrera Cup Deutschland, Agility collaborates with Porsche Supercup racing series. With experience in event logistics as well as automotive logistics, Agility is able to meet the exacting requirements of Porsche and deliver high levels of service even during the pressure of race conditions.

ZF Friedrichshafen AG

ZF Friedrichshafen AG and Porsche enjoy a partnership at the highest level. ZF not only works with Porsche in the production car field, but has also developed customised shock absorbers and racing clutches with Porsche for the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup and many international Porsche Carrera Cups. The experience gained in racing then flows into R&D work in the automobile industry, and gives every Porsche driver with many advantages. The support of talented young drivers is especially important to ZF. Therefore, ZF supports not only the Porsche Juniors, but is also the new partner for the Porsche Carrera Cup Deutschland Talent Pool, which supports young drivers up the career ladder into professional motor racing.

APP-TECH

As a leading producer of lightweight road and race wheels made of forged aluminium or magnesium alloys, App-Tech equips all Porsche 911 GT3 Cup cars. With its headquarters in northern Italy, the company can look back on more than ten years of experience in motorsport and has already celebrated successes in many different racing series. The high quality standards, short delivery times and the perfect wheel design for the requirements of Cup cars make App-Tech a valued partner. Furthermore, App-Tech is the name partner of the "App-Tech Rookie Classification" in the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup.

PUMA

Puma, the globally active sports lifestyle brand is the exclusive technical partner of the whole Porsche Motorsport team for fireproof racing clothing as well as shoes and luggage. The Puma logo is featured on all racing clothing of the Porsche factory drivers and pit crews, who are equipped with the latest innovations in fireproof motorsport clothing. The entire Porsche Motorsport team worldwide wears Puma shoes and travels with Puma travel equipment.

VELTINS

Tradition and quality – two values shared by long-term partners Porsche and Brauerei C. & A. VELTINS. The partnership with Porsche is familiar terrain for the traditional brewery from the Sauerland region of Germany: VELTINS has been sponsoring motorsport since 1997 and has supported the Porsche one-make cups as a partner for several years. In the Porsche Hospitality at racetracks, the VELTINS brewery complements the drinks on offer with a variety of trendy Veltins V+ beer mixes and refreshing, non-alcoholic Veltins draft beer. Like Porsche, Veltins places great importance on unique design. In 2009, for example, the latest VELTINS returnable crates were developed in cooperation with the Porsche design studio, underlining Veltins' high standards and absolute passion.

PARTNER

HAZET

Hazet can now call on almost 150 years of experience in producing quality hand tools, tool trolleys and workshop equipment for professional use. This makes the company a strong partner – and is the reason for Hazet partnering up as the official supplier for over 20 years now. The Remscheid-based enterprise supplies Porsche Motorsport with special tools at the racetracks as well as the motorsport workshops in Weissach.

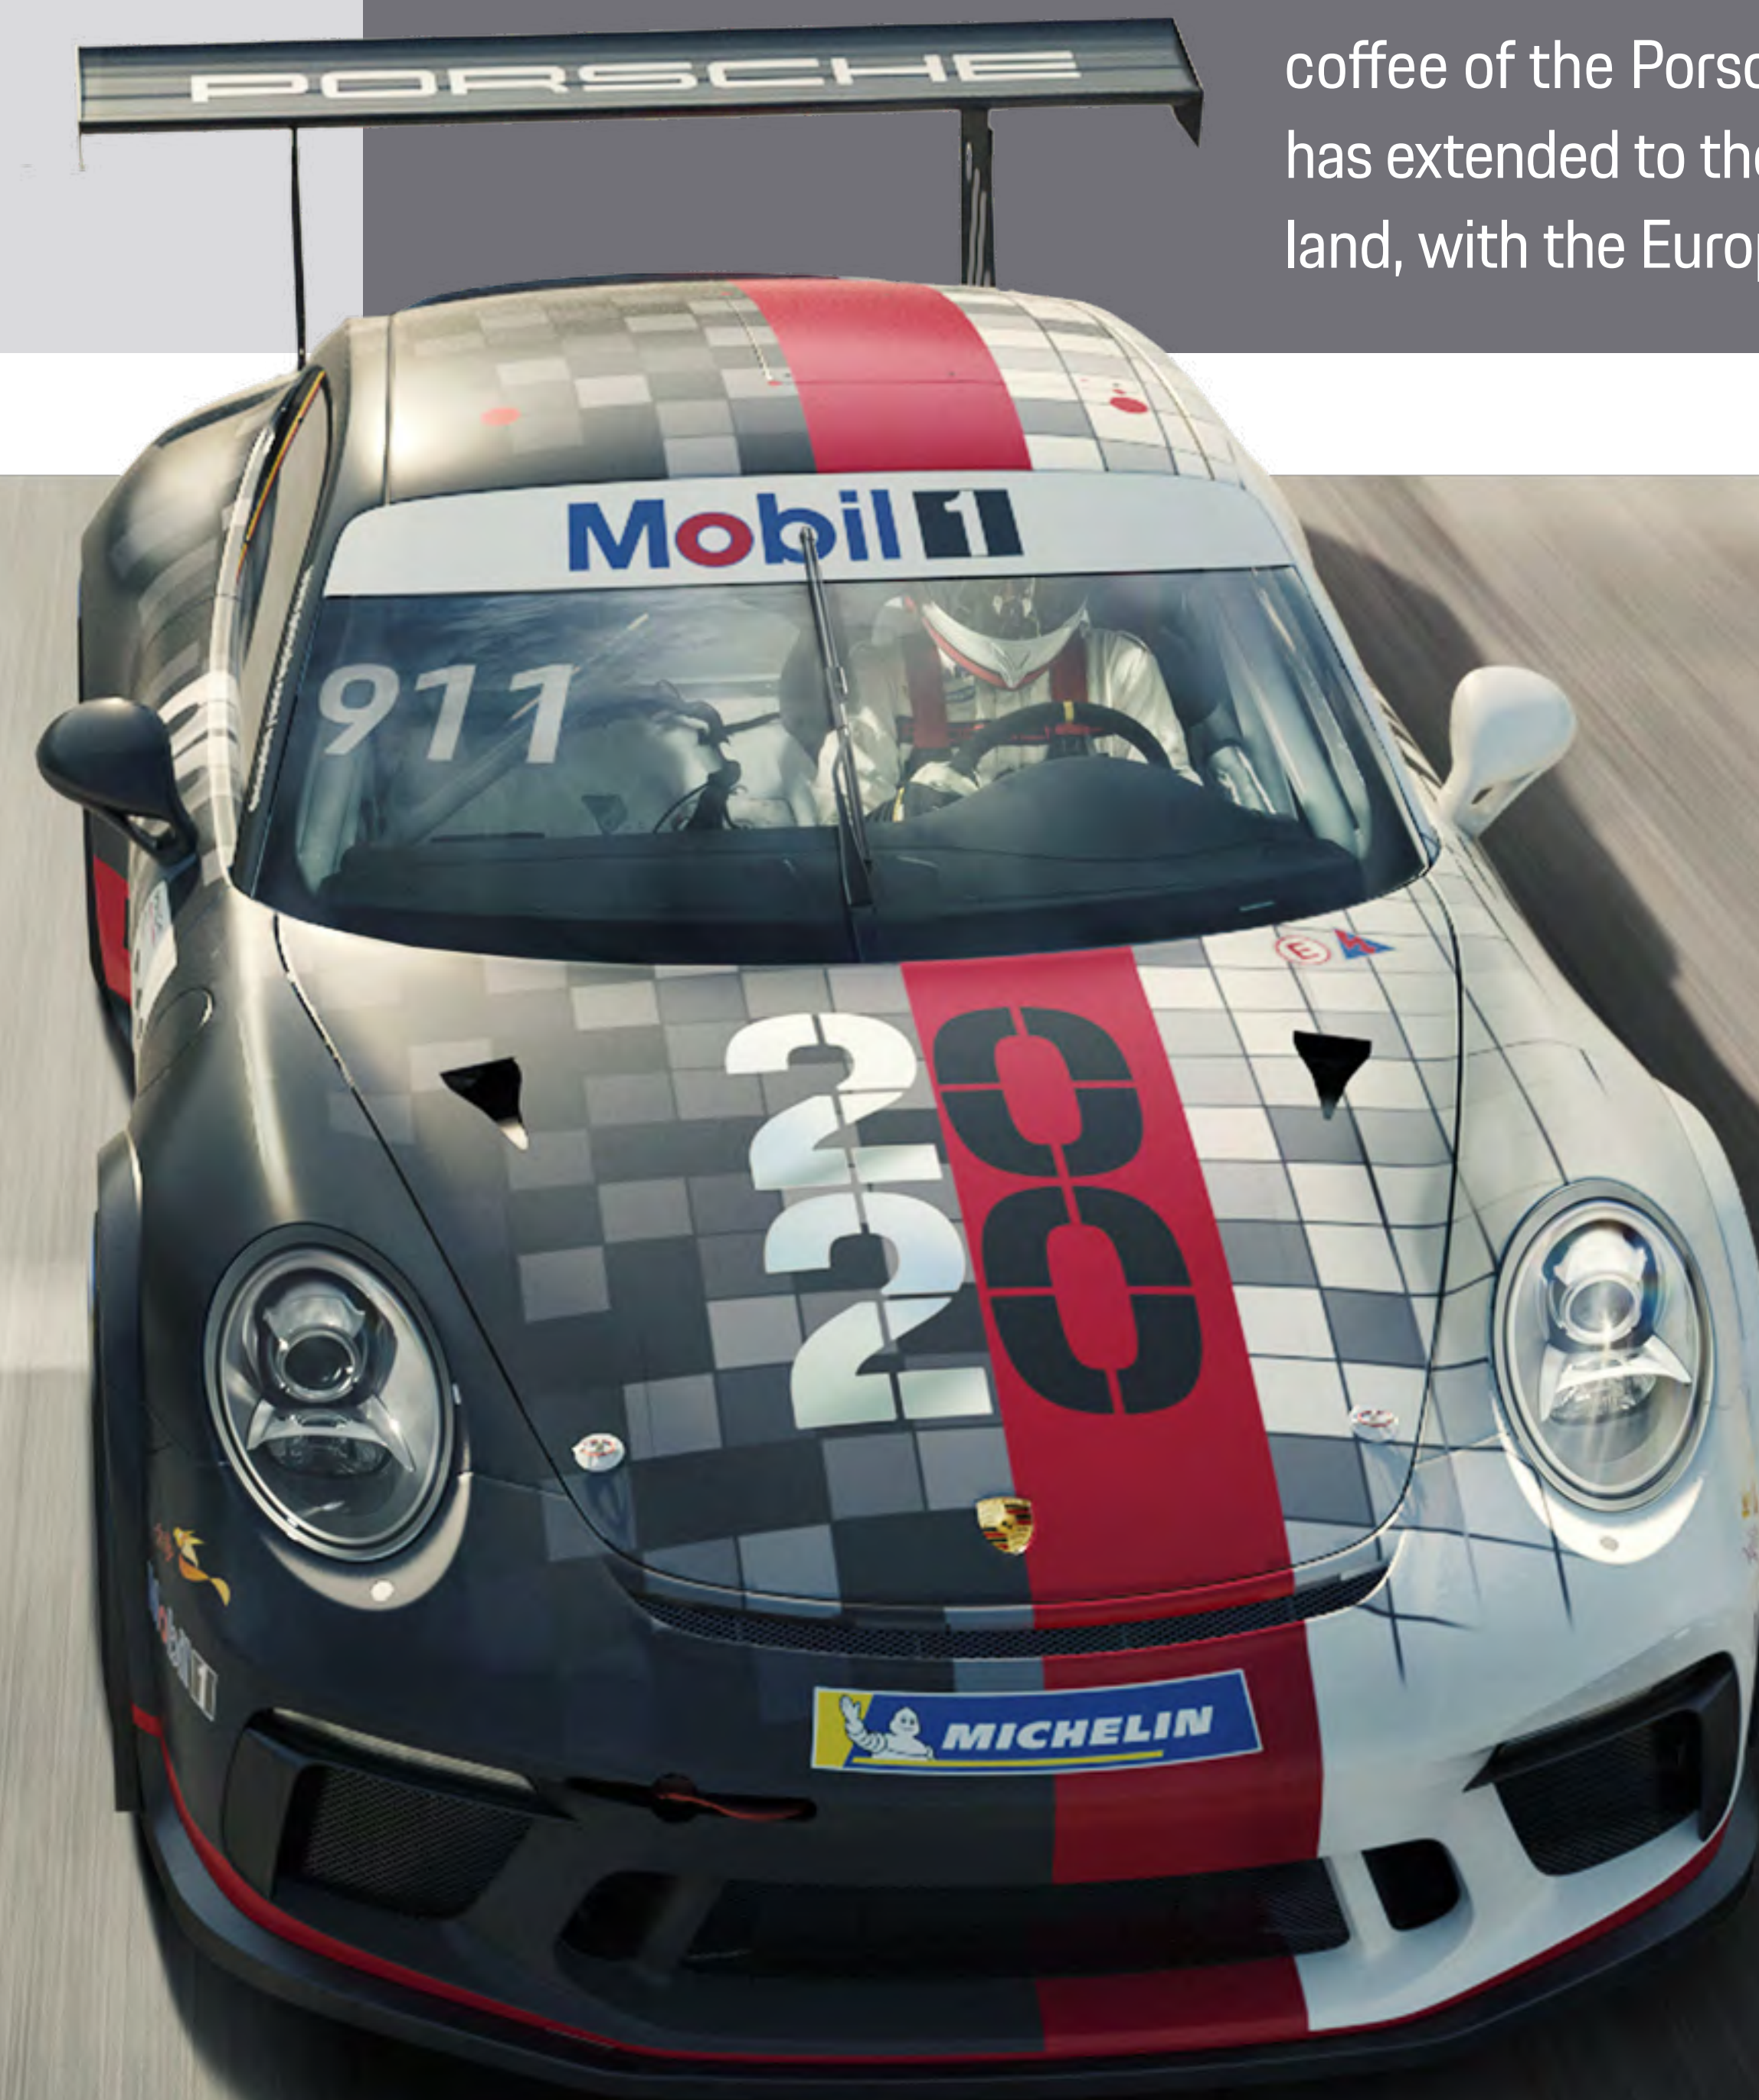

STILO

Stilo was founded in 1999 and has its roots in the WRC, where in the year 2000 the world's first open-face helmet designed around the intercom was launched. In 2003, Stilo created the first Bluetooth intercom for motorbikes. The Italian enterprise celebrated its first World Rally Championship with Sébastien Loeb in 2005, and many more successes with its innovations in its industry. Stilo's connection with Porsche started in 2016 with the development of a new racing communication system via radio for the Porsche Carrera Cup Asia and with Romain Dumas's victory at the 24 Hours of Le Mans. Stilo helmets exemplify top functionality and include everything a driver needs: intercom, connections, earmuffs, and a drinking system. In 2019, Stilo partnered up with Porsche Motorsport as the new helmet supplier for the Porsche factory squad: chosen for product safety, weight, noise cancellation and also Stilo's first-class service.

SACRED

Sacred has been one of London's leading tea and coffee brands since 2015. The roots of the company go even deeper with Sacred's own team plantations in Sri Lanka, which is run by Sacred owner Tubbs Wanigasekera and his family. Moreover, Sacred offers an exquisite coffee experience with a range of blends using only 100% Arabica beans. For the last nine years, the company has been the official coffee of the Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain. In 2017, the partnership with Porsche has extended to the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup and the Porsche Carrera Cup Deutschland, with the European WEC races added in 2018.
